ATTLEBORO HIGH SCHOOL

DEDICATION 2000

Throughout the last four years the class off 2000 has had many teachers, mentors, friends and guardians who have helped us reach our goal. Each year the senior class votes for one person who exemplifies the most deserving recipient of the Tattletale dedication. Through his friendly ways and dedication this person has touched many lives. He has helped to lead us into the new millenium. His words of wisdom will help us to go through life as better human beings. We would like to thank Mr. Perry for all his kindness and leadership thoughout our last four years. He is truly "The man."

CLASS ADVISORS

The class of 2000 was graced with the good fortune of growing with two of the most interesting advisors, as well as people: Mr. Sawyer and Mrs. Rosa. They have had an enormous impact on the Class of 2000 since 1996, our freshman year. Their tireless work, effort, and commitment has helped our class more than words can say. We are forever thankful for your help through these years and will not forget what we have learned from you. Thank you, again for giving the Class of 2000 a helping hand.

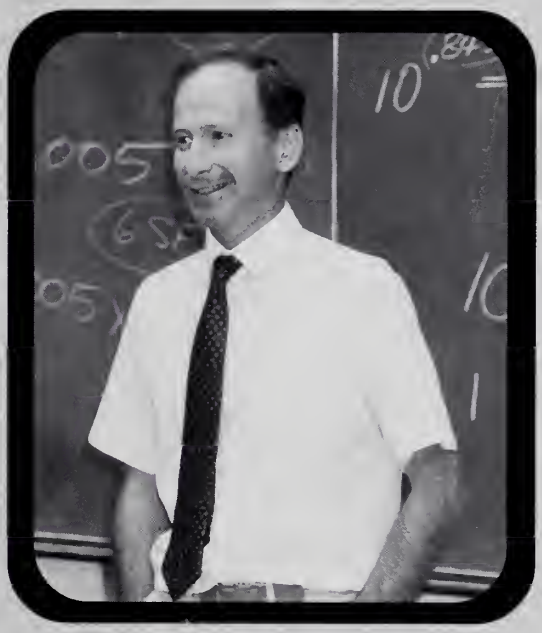
MEMORIAM

John Torsiello

Death be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so;
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow,
Die not, poor death, nor yet canst thou kill me.
From rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be,

Much pleasure; then from thee much more must flow,
And soonest our best men with thee do go,

Brett Roberge



William F. Dentch

Savin So

Rest of their bones, and soul's delivery

Thou art slave to fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell,
And poppy, or charms can make us sleep as well
And better than thy stroke; why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past, we wake eternally,
And death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die.

Holy Sonnet - John Donne

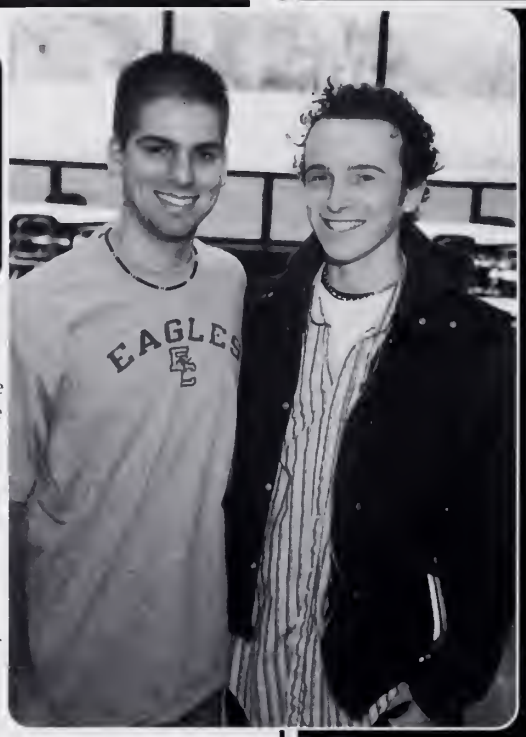
RYAN SURGENS



I was not sure what I was going to say when I was asked to write my own perspective of the yearbook. My yearbook experience came at me in one big wave. A friend of mine, Genevieve Davis, asked me to join the yearbook because it was in desperate need of people. I said that I would give it a try not knowing what to expect from it. I went to a few meetings and did what I was told, learned the ropes, and got to know the staff. Mr. Burbank approached me and asked if i would be co-editor to Fish. I thought about it for a minute and then I said that I would, not even knowing how to crop a picture. I was up for the challenge. Aside from all of the hard work that went into the yearbook, there was also a lot of fun!! I never thought that I would make friends as fast as I did before hoppin' on the yearbook train. There are only a few of us, but things get done. I never knew how much hard work is put into producing a yearbook until I experienced it first hand. I would like to give a HUGE thanks to Mr. Burbank for all his hardwork and extra hours after school. Thank you for making it so much fun, "achin' twitter" and all you gave it your best. Caroline, the long trips home (and stalling) in Betsy will be missed. To my co-editor Fish McGill, you rock!! Thank you for the "Monkey" Movie and supplying your famous popcorn! Thank you for all your help. To the staff, thanks for your dedication and hard work. It has been a true pleasure working with you everyday. To the class of 2000, I hope you enjoy this yearbook because so much has gone into it to make the best. Good luck in the future, it's been an awesome four years. Peace!

Sincerely,
Ryan Surgens

FISH McGILL

I spent my summer wondering who I would work on next year's yearbook with. During 99 I was the only junior on the staff. My partners went with the college winds to New Hampshire, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Thus I went from the run around errand boy, to all that was left. I knew Mr. Burbank would be there but other than that it was a mystery.

The yearbook staff began very big but soon changed into a solid core of seven or eight. There wasn't anybody with experience on the computers so that made it a little bit difficult to get the ball rolling. We were graced by a quartette of junior girls who were eager and willing to get involved. Stacy Petersen, Trinh Nguyen, Caroline Vargas and Alexis DelViscio all performed the needed behind the scenes work. Genevieve Davis jumped aboard to provide humor and help. Aaron Legg also came along to bless us with much needed technical support. Out of no where this kid showed up and did an incredible amount of exceptional work. This was Ryan Surgens. Ryan and I were both named editors for our commitment.

We've put a ton of work into this book and I can definately say I am proud of how it's turned out. Thank you Caroline for calling all of those businesses and sending countless faxes. Thank you !Thank you Jared and Keith for all the laughs. Genevieve for your commitment and support of everyone in the group. Thank you Aaron for learning the computers and doing everything possible. Thank you Trinh! for your commitment of staying every night till five o'clock and beyond, finding out who was who in all those pictures. Thank you Stacy for not doing Drama and making it fun to do hard work. Thank you to my coeditor Ryan for overseeing the operation with me. Thanks to everyone for putting up with me liking the word "stat" after every sentence. But most of all thankyou to Mr. Burbank your humor, pizza, guidance, time, and freedom with the book. We couldn't have had a better advisor.

CLASS OF 2000 HISTORY

The Class of 2000

It was September 1, 1996, when the students who would become the first graduates of the 21st century entered Attleboro High School on a cool late summer morning. Since then, the class of 2000, Attleboro High School, and the world in which we live has seen many changes. As a class we have laughed, cried, celebrated, and mourned together. We have grown closer, we've made new friends, lost some old ones, and gotten some back. We've watched the people we go to school with change, and we've watched ourselves change as well. At times, it seems like nothing in the world is how it was when we entered what once seemed to be such a large building, but we were then, and are now, the class of 2000, the first graduating class of the 21st century.

When writing a story, it is said that the hardest part is writing the first chapter. Perhaps, that is why freshmen year can be so challenging. In addition to becoming familiar with the new building that seemed to be the size of Attleboro itself, there was the challenge of getting to know the students and teachers we were now spending most of our time with. In many classes we introduced ourselves through, "Get to know your neighbor" games that were designed to make everyone feel more comfortable. If any of us had lost sleep over the excitement of being in a new school for the first few weeks, we were able to catch up on it during a one-day impromptu vacation caused by a power outage. After being herded into B1 cafeteria and spending what would have been the first hour of school chatting with friends, we were told that we were free leave. The rest would be short lived however as we would be back to work the next day. We did a lot of work that first year. However, we did not do quite as much work as we should have to get ready for the Fall Spirit Rally. Less than a week after our first elections were held we were sent into the gym for the loudest spirit contest any of us had ever seen. We were not doing too bad until Colleen Scott rolled a ball out of bounds to disqualify us from the relay and send us into last place at the rally. And thus, a tradition had begun. In December, the football team went to the Super Bowl. Even more exciting than that, due to a huge unexpected snowstorm, we went home early on the day before the game. Most students were let out in time to catch their bus, and some got to take a wintry walk home that afternoon. Freshmen year concluded with the Freshmen Social held in B1 Cafeteria. We danced to theme song, "For You I Will" by Monica and to live performances by the Craigmyster.

Sophomore year got started with a Welcome Back assembly in which we accepted the Freeman Hall Trophy for outstanding attendance during our freshman year. We viewed our first home Thanksgiving Day football game at North Attleboro as high school students in November. The only thing chillier than the team's reception at North was the weather. The weather was not any better for the rescheduled Powder Puff game that was played on a muddy Tozier Cassidy Field. We watched our Class Advisor, Mr. Sawyer brave the elements as the game's referee. Both teams agreed he called the game fairly and justly. As a class we had the responsibility of hosting the Homecoming Dance. The dance went off without a hitch, with the exception of the lack of D.J. problem we experienced for the first few hours. We still owe Jessica Beaupre a lot of gratitude for forgetting her jacket, forcing her boyfriend and the eventual D.J. to return home just in time for a frantic phone call from AHS. In the spring of our sophomore year we went to the Elks for the Sophomore Gathering. The theme song was "My Heart Will Go On," chosen because it was on at least one radio station every half hour for a period of months. A few weeks later a deadly house explosion that killed two city workers devastated the city of Attleboro. Hope was restored to the city days later when the Attleboro High School boy's basketball team won the Division 1 State Championship. Everyone there will remember the exalting run down on to the parquet floor to congratulate the team during that championship run. That spring many of our classmates gained prominent roles in the musical, "West Side Story." Some are still intimidated when they see Rob Robinson in the halls and recognize him only as the one of the leaders of the "Jets." Sophomore year ended and we watched many older brothers, sisters, and friends leave Attleboro High School and go off into the world. We were now half way through one of the first exciting journey of our lives.

Junior year began with the pressures of being upperclassmen. We no longer had a cool junior or senior to try to model ourselves after. Our junior year was the first time that we were really forced to think about just what would come after high school. Would we go on to college, into the work force, or perhaps even the United States Military. Throughout the year the answers to those high anxiety questions slowly became answered. While we were finding those answers we were able to have a little fun. Neal Donahue was anointed the first ever Mr. AHS by balancing a ladder on his nose. Neal later revealed the secret to his success in saying: Chicks dig the ladder thing. They certainly do. In the spring of our junior year we went to Foxboro where the Junior Prom was held at Lakeview Pavilion. Joleen Bou and Rob Robinson were chosen as the Prom King and Queen. It was a most memorable night, as were most when the class of 2000 got together. Later that month, we held the first outdoor spirit rally at AHS. Towards the end it looked like we might be able to pull out of the basement for the first time in our history. However, Rob O'Keefe preserved the tradition by diving headfirst over the wrong finish line during the relay race. Our thanks to Rob who secured our place in the rally and in rally history.

In the fall we returned to Attleboro High School one last time. The school seemed much different than it had when we left. Mrs. Martin was now the principal and Mr. Camire was now the Assistant Principal. There were many new teachers to get to know, and some new students. The OGO was MIA for a little while until someone discovered that they had moved to the balcony above the library. In addition to that, someone had gotten into A building and painted the doorways a very bright green. Whoever did that was probably the same person who moved our house office to what seemed to be miles from the rest of the school. More profound changes came to our roles as students at the school. The guys dressed up in military uniforms were now there to talk to members of our class, not our older friends. Many of our classmates were now actually in the work force themselves through Co-op programs. In the relocated OGO stars began to go up with peoples names on them and their destinations for next year. One by one each star that went up symbolized how close we were coming to the end.

The end is now near. On June 4, 2000, Attleboro High School will be awarding its first diplomas of the 21st century. It will be us, the class of 2000, who will be accepting those diplomas. The first of many journeys in our life will be coming to a close. When we accept those diplomas we will have an opportunity to reflect upon what we have learned at Attleboro High School and throughout our education to this point. Some classes will be forced to pass the MCAS test in order to receive those diplomas. However, having just completed four years of high school, we know that no test could ever begin to evaluate all that we have learned over the past four years. It is hard to imagine what we will remember high school for. We may remember it as an educational experience like none other, where teachers touched our mind and heart and made us think about being better than we thought we could. We may remember it as a time we met a very special person, got to know that person, lost that person, and then got them back. We remember it as a time where we had infinite potential, but less than infinite time. Perhaps we will all remember it in our own way. And, Attleboro High School will remember all of us in its' own way as well. Good luck to the class of 2000!!!

Sincerely,

Class President
1996-2000

Dear Graduates of the Class of 2000:

It is my pleasure to extend congratulations to each member of the Class of 2000. You have received a quality education that has prepared you for participation in our democratic society as citizens, workers, and life-long learners.

I challenge you to make the most of your opportunities and to use your talents and education to serve your community. I trust that each of you will have a passion for excellence. I have every confidence that as Attleboro graduates you will meet the challenge.

As you go forward from Attleboro High School and into the twenty-first century, I wish you good fortune.

Sincerely,

Ronald W. Pacy
